

OUTLINE OF TOPICS

	PAGE
1. The generic notion of art: skill of mind in making	73
2. Art and nature
2a. Causation in art and nature: artistic production compared with natural generation
2b. The role of matter and form in artistic and natural production	74
2c. The natural and the artificial as respectively the work of God and man
3. Art as imitation	75
4. Diverse classifications of the arts: useful and fine, liberal and servile
5. The sources of art in experience, imagination, and inspiration	76
6. Art and science
6a. The comparison and distinction of art and science
6b. The liberal arts as productive of science: means and methods of achieving knowledge	77
6c. Art as the application of science: the productive powers of knowledge
7. The enjoyment of the fine arts	78
7a. Art as a source of pleasure or delight
7b. The judgment of excellence in art	79
8. Art and emotion: expression, purgation, sublimation
9. The useful arts	80
9a. The use of nature by art: agriculture, medicine, teaching
9b. The production of wealth: the industrial arts	81
9c. The arts of war
9d. The arts of government	82
10. The moral and political significance of the arts	83
10a. The influence of the arts on character and citizenship: the role of the arts in the training of youth
10b. The political regulation of the arts for the common good: the problem of censorship
11. Myths and theories concerning the origin of the arts	84
12. The history of the arts: progress in art as measuring stages of civilization	