

THE GREAT IDEAS: LOVE
From the Syntopicon

OUTLINE OF TOPICS

1. The nature of love
Ia. Conceptions of love and hate: as passions and as acts of will
Ib. Love and hate in relation to each other and in relation to pleasure and pain
Ic. The distinction between love and desire: the generous and acquisitive aims
Id. The objects of love; the good, the true, the beautiful; God, man, things
	<small>PAGE</small>
Ie. The intensity and power of love: its increase or decrease; its constructive or destructive force	1063
If. The power of hate	1064
2. The kinds of love
2a. Lustful, sexual, or selfish love: concupiscent love
(1) The sexual instinct: its relation to other instincts	1065
(2) Infantile sexuality: polymorphous perversity	1066
(3) Object-fixations, identifications, and transferences: sublimation
(4) The perversion, degradation, or pathology of love: infantile and adult love
2b. Friendly, tender, or altruistic love: fraternal love
(1) The relation between love and friendship	1067
(2) Self-love in relation to the love of others
(3) The types of friendship: friendships based on utility, pleasure, or virtue	1068
(4) Patterns of love and friendship in the family	1069
2c. Romantic, chivalric, and courtly love: the idealization and supremacy of the beloved	1070
2d. Conjugal love: its sexual, fraternal, and romantic components	1071
3. The morality of love	1072
3a. Friendship and love in relation to virtue and happiness
ib. The demands of love and the restraints of virtue: moderation in love; the order of loves	1073
y. The conflict of love and duty: the difference between the loyalties of love and the obligations of justice
id. The heroism of friendship and the sacrifices of love	1074
4. The social or political force of love, sympathy, or friendship
4a. Love between equals and unequals, like and unlike: the fraternity of citizenship	1075
4b. The dependence of the state on friendship and patriotism: comparison of love and justice in relation to the common good	1076
4c. The brotherhood of man and the world community
5. Divine love	1077
5a. God as the primary object of love
(1) Man's love of God in this life; respect for the moral law
(2) Beatitude as the fruition of love	1078
5b. Chanty, or supernatural love, compared with natural love
(1) The precepts of charity: the law of love
(a) The theological virtue of charity: its relation to the other virtues	1079
5c. God's love of Himself and of creatures	