

OUTLINE OF TOPICS

	PACB
1. The general theory of punishment	497
1a. The nature of punishment: the pain of sense and the pain of loss
1b. The retributive purpose of punishment: the lex talionis ; retaliation and revenge; the righting of a wrong
1c. Punishment for the sake of reforming the wrongdoer	499
1d. The preventive use of punishment: the deterrence of wrongdoing
2. Personal responsibility as a condition of just punishment: the problem of collective responsibility	500
2a. Free will in relation to responsibility and punishment: voluntariness in relation to guilt or fault; the accidental, the negligent, and the intentional
2b. Sanity, maturity, and moral competence in relation to responsibility	501
3. Punishment in relation to virtue and vice
3a. Rewards and punishments as factors in the formation of moral character
3b. Vice its own punishment	502
3c. Guilt, repentance, and the moral need for punishment
4. Crime and punishment: punishment as a political instrument
4a. Punishment for lawbreaking as a necessary sanction of law	503
4b. The forms of punishment available to the state
(1) The death penalty: its justification
(2) Exile or ostracism: imprisonment or incarceration	504
(3) Enforced labor or enslavement
(4) Torture: cruel and unusual punishments	505
4c. The justice of legal punishment: the conventionality of the punishments determined by positive law
4d. Grades of severity in punishment: making the punishment fit the crime
5. The punishment for sin	506
5a. The origin and fulfillment of curses
5b. The wages of sin: the punishment of original sin
5c. The pain of remorse and the torment of conscience: the atonement for sin	507
5d. The modes of divine punishment: here and hereafter, temporal and eternal	508
5e. The justice of divine punishment	509
(1) The justification of eternal suffering in Hell or Hades	510
(2) The necessity of expiation in Purgatory
6. Pathological motivations with respect to punishment: abnormal sense of sin or guilt; perverse desires to inflict or suffer punishment	